

You are changing function or your work contract ?

The CNE is there for you

You are changing your function in the company or your work contract is modified ? You're probably wondering about your rights and obligations, the steps to take, the advices to follow to succeed in this change. The CNE team is there to support you in this new professional career turn.

WITH YOUR AGREEMENT

In theory, your employer cannot significantly modify a key element of your work contract. The nature of your function (employee or handworker), the content of your function (with more or less details in your contract), your salary (or the way it's calculated), your working regime (half-time or full-time) and your working schedule are some of those key elements. In order to modify them, your employer must therefore obtain your agreement, except if your contract says otherwise.

THE CNE, ALWAYS BY YOUR SIDE

If you need any advice, information, support in your professional procedures or for an interview, or an assistance to resolve conflict, whatever your question or professional issue may be, the CNE will be happy to help you. Behind the CNE team of your company, close to 150 people are working for the members. Don't ever hesitate to contact us !
